

Teaching Creatively on Zoom

A half-day workshop to help you provide awesome online learning

Phil says, "A huge amount of teaching is now happening on Zoom, but many teachers have had little support to help them get the most out of teaching online."

Dr Tony says, "If you're one of those teachers, we're here to help. Our workshop on Teaching Creatively Online gives you the confidence and skills to make online learning more fun, more interactive and more effective."

"Utterly brilliant! Got me over the terror of teaching on Zoom! Relaxed, informed, fun way of learning how to deliver and embrace the online teaching process. My work has taken off in a new direction, love it, so now I'm converted!"

What will you learn?

Part 1: maximising engagement

- Getting the most out of breakout rooms
- Sharing video and audio clips
- Pre-recording content with Zoom to give you an extra pair of hands
- Using a second camera
- Creating polls to obtain feedback
- Annotating documents and images
- Facilitating discussion with the chat panel

Part 2: designing successful sessions

- Making students feel welcome
- Dealing with 'cameras off'
- Chairing effective online discussions
- Owning your Zoom settings to save you time
- Structuring inclusive sessions
- Using live Zoom sessions as part of a learning ecosystem
- Recording and sharing sessions

“Ding showed us how we could translate our established and successful short course programme into an effective online learning experience, maintaining our distinctiveness and all important sense of place while focusing on student learning.”

Francine Norris, Principal – West Dean College of Arts and Conservation

What do you need?

- A group of four or more people
- An internet connection
- 3 hours

Why do you need this workshop?

Dr Nicholas says, “Teachers everywhere have done an incredible job of moving online during 2020.

But in 2021, students will expect more from online teaching than accessing documents and videos.

There is a huge opportunity to make teaching online effective, satisfying, and inclusive.”

Ding! awesome online learning

Let's personalise your workshop!
Book your free scoping session
with Dr Tony

Fancy a takeaway?

Download one of our handy guides on the secret sauce of awesome online learning.

ding.global